

USB Scam Warning!

Thank You “Gift” Only Presents Problems

A recent FBI warning warns U.S. companies to be on guard for packages containing malicious USB drives from the FIN7 cybercrime group. The USB drives register on users’ PCs as unseen, virtual keyboards with pre-configured keystrokes in an effort to download or install various types of malware.

Protect yourself with these tips:

1 Watch out for Thank You letters from Amazon or other reputable companies containing USB drives.

2 Do not insert any USB drives that you did not request into a computer without having them checked by the IT Department.

3 If you already inserted a USB drive into your computer, immediately contact your IT Department or Intrada Technologies.
